では、始めます。

Hello, everyone. Today I am going to talk about my grandfather. I love him very much.

He is seventy-five years old, but he looks very young. He is very kind to me. He is also kind to other people and animals. For example, we have a dog named Shiro. Shiro likes to walk around the park. Of course, Shiro cannot speak, but my grandfather understands Shiro. Every morning and evening, my grandfather walks around the park with Shiro. Shiro looks very happy to be with him.

Last week, I studied math very hard until late at night because I had a lot of math homework. My grandfather came into my room and said, "Have some hot milk, Masako." I was surprised because I wanted something to drink. How did he know? He just smiled and said that he understands me because we are family.

Now I understand my grandfather's words. It is difficult to understand how others feel, but it is important to try. I want to be kind like my grandfather in the future.

Question 1: What does Masako's grandfather do every morning and evening?

Question 2: Why did Masako study math until late at night?

Question 3: What did Masako learn from her grandfather?

(英文と質問を繰り返します。)
